SUMMARY OF ST. LOUIS MARKETS.

Grain speculation was extremely light yesterday and the tendency was sharply downward. There was a marked reaction from Monday's bullish sentiment and no apparent utside interest in futures, though the cash demand was fairly large. Nearly all of the statistical news was favorable to the selling side. Receipts were again heavy and weather conditions facilitated the movement of wheat to Western markets. At Minneapolis and Duluth receipts were large, with only a moderate milling demand. The professionals who ran the shorts to cover on Monday were not in evidence.

Corn was almost neglected after the early rush to buy. This was caused by damage eports, which were not borne out by later advices. Dec, wheat opened %e up and closed %6% off.

Dec. corn opened the up and closed the off.

Dec. cata closed the up. Prices of country produce were generally firm to higher, with a good local and shiping demand for high-grade receipts.

Local securities were duli and a trifle lower. There was little speculative interest. Yesterday's bank clearings were $5.005,018, balances $889,005. Discount rates were firm Spot cotton was quiet and unchanged.
